HUANRI MD SERIES

We often come up with ideas and ideas in the brainstorming and creative planning stages. These ideas will eventually be realized at a high temperature of about 1000°C. The production of the product goes on the market, which uncovers the leading chapter.

We are full of vision.

Constantly concerned about the development of the entire process, until the birth of perfect results.

When advanced technology equipment encounters a development bottleneck, it requires the art of the leader to exert more powerful energy, and this completely depends on superb craftsmanship.

THERMOSTATIC FAUCETS

The new generation of thermostatic mixers incorporates water temperature and flow regulation, with an optimized internal working mode. The thermostatic faucet has a built-in safety feature: When the cold water stops supplying, the hot water is automatically cut off.

THERMOSTATIC FAUCETS

When you walk into the bathtub or keep on tapping the faucet to adjust the water temperature before starting the shower, you must not be unfamiliar with such a scene. With the humanized design of high-precision thermostatic mixers, the problem is easily solved. This faucet not only maintains the preset temperature when you shower, but also easily handles temperature changes caused by the size of the water stream. It is equipped with a hot water pipe with excellent heat insulation performance to prevent the faucet from heating on the outer wall of the faucet and prevent scalding.
